FORM LETTER 95

Feb. 1, 1923.

To Supervisors of Schools and
High School Principals.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

ORAL ENGLISH EXAMINATIONS FOR SENIORS

Circular Letter No. 48 requires all high school students to pass an examination in oral English before they receive a diploma. In order that they may have some idea of their standing in this work, it is suggested that one or more preliminary examinations be conducted by a group of English teachers during this semester. A searching test should be made to ascertain their ability to converse correctly and with good English accent on any subject of every day interest. A strict grade should be registered in these tests in order that pupils may realize wherein their work is weak and use every means to improve it before the final examinations. A close observation of their standing at this time, may avoid serious complications at a later date. Publicity should be given to this requirement so that parents may have a clear understanding of what is demanded in this subject.

Yours very truly,

Signed--GERTRUDE LIGGETT

Acting Commissioner of Education.
